FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Millionaire Mind Kids once again volunteer at the Airshow

Apple Valley, CA – The Apple Valley Airshow and NAPA© Auto Parts Car Display promises to be the largest show ever on Saturday, Oct. 14, 2017 and the Millionaire Mind Kids will be volunteering throughout the airshow as they have for the last two years.

Millionaire MindKids Non-profit Aviation Career Academy is honored to participate in this years AppleValley Airshow. The primary goals of this academy are to expose as many Victor Valley youth to the various aviation career opportunities across the industry; build a local-pipeline of home grown aviation maintenance skilled employees who will be positioned for employment as job opportunities open at our local Southern California Logistics Airport (SCLA), and to provide resources and flight opportunities to our future pilots. Last year, we participated in the maintenance crew where our students learned to turn trash to cash. Our students cashed in on all the recyclables at the Airshow to fundraise for our organization and they took pride in their contributions to the success of the show. We will be volunteering again in this same capacity along with managing a MMK booth. Please stop in to see us, said Delores Williams, President and CEO Millionaire Mind Kids (MMK).

The airshow provides scholarships for local students in the STEM field and it's been a huge success.

Community groups, volunteer organizations and our sponsors are a big part in the airshow. If you are interested in volunteering, or sponsoring the airshow, visit our website for more information.

This years show is largest ever at Apple Valley Airport with the most ever aerobatic performers, warbird fly-bys, skydivers and formation teams. You can find the schedule on our website. Kids will enjoy the Kids Area and meeting the performers, getting free autographs, so bring the kids and plan on spending the entire day!
